

As the Chief of Police for the City of Ontario, I pledge to the citizens, my commitment to excellence.

As the Chief of Police for the City of Ontario, I pledge to the officers, my commitment to excellence.

I will maintain and continue to build on the professionalism and commitment of those that preceded me in the Office of Chief of Police, and for those officers that preceded me as a member of the Ontario Division of Police.

Many proud men & women have come and gone as members of this division, and they are never to be forgotten for the wonderful work they have done for the citizens, and for the professionalism that is seen by the Ontario Division of Police.

We as a team at the Ontario Division of Police, will continue to Serve & Protect the citizens in a prudent, prompt, and professional manner, while exercising an ethical and disciplined approach to all we do.

I will see that the officers under my command receive the required and necessary training to make them all, the best trained and the best prepared officers for what they may face in the dangerous duties they carry out on a daily basis.

I will see that we continue & maintain our new commitment in returning to our citizens, our involvement with them, as we build an everlasting relationship. I will get to know you and you will get to know me, as we truly serve your needs and concerns, as a citizen in the City of Ontario.

To the Citizens of Ontario & the Members of the Ontario Division of Police, it is my desire to exceed your expectations.
